A NATION-WIDE STRIKE

Reign of Terror and Bloodshed Holds Glasgow and Belfast in Grip—Ulster Volunteers May Be Called to Restore Order.

London, Feb. 1.—"The government has taken all necessary steps to preserve order."

This official statement came yesterday evening following a reign of terror and bloodshed today at Glasgow and at Belfast, hotbeds of nation-wide strikes inspired by those capitalizing post-war unrest.

At Belfast where rioting, window-smashing, and clashes between strikers and police continued last night, the municipal authorities are planning to call up 30,000 special constables to take control of the city out of the hands of the strikers. A large body of demobilized Ulster volunteers are available as a nucleus besides rifles and machine guns, about which Parliament heard so much last year.

There are indications that the Belfast strike is reaching the breaking point, as the leaders are beginning to repudiate each other. The shipyard employers threaten a six week's lockout unless the men return to work today on the old basis.

William Gallaher and David Kirkwood, strike leaders, were among those arrested.

While reading the "riot act" in George Square, a constable and sheriff were hit with beer bottles.

Police, mounted and on foot, charged into the mob plying their batons without stint. The police, assisted by soldiers, received a shower of stones, iron bolts and other missiles from the mob. A passng brewery wagon was relieved of its load, the looters drinking the liquor and then hurling the empty bottles at the police. Finally on advice of the leaders, the demonstration dispersed.

A score or more of street cars in Glasgow were wrecked and many shops were looted.

The trouble still is spreading and it is now feared that upward of 200,000 transport workers will strike for a 48-hour week.

MISS CAROLINE MASON DIES; FORMER RESIDENT OF CITY

Miss Caroline Mason, daughter of the late Thompson Mason, a former resident of Alexandria, died yesterday evening at 6 o'clock at her residence at the Farragut Apartment, Washington. The deceased formerly lived at "Colross," this city. Her forbears formerly lived at Gunston Hall, Va. A sister, Mrs. Davidge, of New York, is living.

Her funeral will take place at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from Christ Church, this city. Services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Randolph McKim, rector of Epiphany Church, Washington, assisted by Rev. Dr. W. J. Morton, rector of Christ Church.

WILLETT-CORBIN NUPTIALS

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. F. Kelly. Attending the couple were Mrs Jeannette Poole, and Mr. George Poole. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Corbin, 429 North St. Asaph street.

SICK MAN'S BITE KILLS

Inflicted on Defender of Home, Causes The Latter's Death.

Carbondale, Pa., Feb. 1.—Geoge P. Swigert, aged 72, one of Carbondale's most prominent men died Thursday night at 11.30 o'clock at his home, a victim of blood poisoning, which resulted when he was bitten on October 22 by a delirious influenza patient who had escaped from the city hospital and entered the Swigert home by breaking through a porch window.

The noise of the intruder aroused Swigert, and when he went down stairs the man attacked him with a club. In the struggle before the police arrived, Swigert was bitten on his right hand by the man, who died within an hour after he was returned to the hospital. The wound on the hand failed to heal, and the infection spread to the arm, which had to be amputated

"MODERN" SCHOOL BUILDING

To the Editor:

In an article published in Tuesday's paper, in regard to our modern High School Building, we, the students, wish to state that the composer has a very erroneous idea as to the size, spirit and modernism; in fact there are just a few over two hundred pupils and the degree of spirit is very low.

It may be that the citizens take pride in the "modern" building, but just how many know how modern it is? If it is modern where are the necessities that should be in all the schools of today, namely; the modern gymnasium, the shower baths, the laboratory, the seated auditorium, the athletic field and track which are absolutely necessary to make the school up to date and its graduates complete in their high school education?

Why were not these things installed when the building was built? Because the citizens in general did not know what a modern school was and were not particularly interested.

There have been a few people who have stood behind the school all along, but nothing can be accomplished unless every one does their part. Pleas, appeals, petitions have been made for improvements but in vain. Why? Because the general public was uninterested.

The Shipyard, Torpedo Plant and other industries new to Alexandria have received unfailing support, while the school has received no improvements whatsoever. Why? Again because the public has been uninterested.

The Fire Department calls a great amount of attention and pride and large sums are advanced for its improvement, but the schools are in the same old condition and will remain so until the citizens get the right spirit and back them up

At one time the School Board promised our coach, Mr. Haydon to install shower baths, but we are still hunting for them, simply because the citizens are not back of the School Board. There are some who claim it is because of the non-progressive School Board that we are unable to secure any improvements. Of course there are exceptions, but as a rule it is because of the lack of interest assumed by the Citizens which must be had to back the School Board.

When our teams journey from home they are excellently treated hold the games on fine, inclosed fields or in up to date gyms. After the games, shower baths are at their disposal and they dress in real dressing rooms (not class rooms.)

As to a laboratory—it is absolutely necessary to make a high school education complete. All of our rival schools have laboratories, even the town of Manassas, which is small compared with Alexandria.

It is too late to secure a good gym but a laboratory, shower bath and an inclosed athletic field and track are entirely possible and necessary, and our graduates will not have a complete high school education until these improvements have been made.

There are many who say athletics are unnecessary. They are! School spirit must prevail in order to make the students do their best, but spirit cannot exist unless athletic activities are extensive and athletics cannot be carried out to any extent unless they are prompted by the proper advantages.

It could easily be noticed how the spirit was revived somewhat when the High School Auditorium was secured for Basket Ball purposes. The Auditorium is not suited for Basket Ball, but not having a gym, we must accommodate ourselves to what we have.

The city of Alexandria cannot thrive under the leadership of persons with a partial education so let every person do his part and strive to make the schools of Alexandria a success.

This is not meant as a statement of resentment on the part of the student body. It is simply a statement of a few facts, in answer to the above mentioned article and a plea to the citizens of Alexandria to see that their children have a few of the necessities and conveniences that many towns much smaller in size and wealth are providing.

The Student Body of the Alexandria High School.

CLEAR MANIAC MYSTERY

James Jackson, Colored, Tells in Detail of Attacks Upon Three Women —Attempts to End His Own Life By Firing a Bullet Into His Breast.

Washington's "maniac" mystery was cleared up at midnight last night.

The police took into custody James Jackson, colored, 30 years old, former convict and "bad man," who told in detail, in the presence of Major Raymond Pullman and a majority of Central Office detectives, how he visited the homes of three different white women early on the morning of January 21, shot two of them, one fatally, and choked a third.

His complete narrative of his mad adventure so completely dovetailed with all the facts ascertained from the victims that Central Office men early this morning felt confident that Jackson is the right man.

He told in detail of his struggle with Miss Lillian Hood, who died Thursday at Emergency Hospital, and how, after shooting her, he tried to end his own life, a bullet entering his own breast. It was removed from Jackson's body at headquarters, the alleged murderer apparently suffering no ill effects.

MAN CUTS THROAT

Bertha Nickelas Says Father Attacked Her Before Trying Suicide

Baltimore, Md. Feb. 1.—Declaring that his two alleged attacks on her brought about remorse is the reason given by Bertha Nickelas, of 1216 South Decker avenue, for the attempted suicide of her father, Bartholemen Nickelas, aged 52 years, who early yesterday morning was found in a room on the first floor of the house with blood flowing from an ugly gash in his throat. A razor was beside him and he was apparently near death. His condition is critical.

The daughter reported that her father had attacked her on January 1, after which she left home, coming back Thursday. That night he renewed his attacks, she said, and in the struggle her face was cut. She declared that it must have been remorse after she upbraided him that caused the desire to end his life.

GRAND THEATRE

Don't fail to see J. Stuart Blackton, Monday, the Master of Screencraft. It is a drama that will thrill and interest you in the extreme. In addition to this magnificient picture "The Iron Test," by Antonio Moreno will be shown. This is one of the best serials yet produced. Here is a brief synopsis of the play:

Bert Forde, who is Albert Henry Beresford and heir to ten millions, is an adventurer and a performer in Jenkin's circus. His cousin, Lewis Craven also is with the show, and both men are in love with Edith Paige, a beautiful rider. Craven learns old Beresford is dead and Bert is sought as the heir. Craven is next of kin and he keeps the news secret, and from then on Bert is victim of almost daily accidents in and out of the ring in which he and Edith are often near death. A wedmasked man is always mixed up in the accidents. One night, Bert is riding on a high platform, when Red Mask shoots the horse and Bert is hurled into space.

INGOMAR—Margarita Fisher

Seldom has a girl star had a better supporting cast than Margarita Fisher in the rip-roaring American Film Company picture "Fair Enough," which will be seen at the Ingomar Theatre tonight.

And perhaps never has a more interesting mixture of droll antics, bizarre vagaries on the part of a devil-may-care girl, been put into a light screen comedy in a more interesting and amusing manner than in this production. Nothing more fitting, nothing more suitable has perhaps ever been written for Margarita Fisher than this J. Anthony Roach story.

DRAFT BOARDS MAY SERVE

Plan to Have Them Demobilize Soldiers Considered.

New York, Feb. 1.—A plan to demobilize soldiers returned from France through local draft boards instead of discharging them direct from camps, is being considered by the War Department, according to Police Commissioner Enright, who made public yesterday details of interviews which he had last Monday at Washington with Secretary of War Baker and Provost Marshal General Crowder.

The proposed new system, the commissioner said, met with the approval of General Crowder, while Secretary Baker, who had decided against the plan when it was urged on a previous occasion, promised to reconsider his decision.

Citing conditions in New York, where he said there were 50,000 non-resident soldiers and reports from Chicago that 100,000 discharged negro troops were drifting into the city from Middle West camps, Mr. Enright declared that it would be better for the soldiers, their relatives and the larger cities if they were mustered out in their home communities. Under the present system, he said, the men, with their final pay in their pockets, largely go from the demobilization camps to nearby cities where they are often "stranded" through spending or losing their ready cash. For economic, moral and financial reasons, he added, he had urged the Federal officials to send the released soldiers home.

RICHMOND—"Cleopatra"

Theda Bara as Cleopatra! will be the attraction at the Richmond tonight. Theda Bara in the role of the most beautiful queen of the Ancients. The coupling of these two famous personages suggests magnificence and sumptuousness.

And that is what the newest Theda Bara Superpicture is—the Most Magnificent and sumptuous production on earth.

Theda Bara as Cleopatra is William Fox's idea of absolutely the biggest thing in motion pictures. He planned to make it so, and expense has been unstinted in accomplishing this result.

In William Fox's version of Cleopatra Ancient Rome lives again; Alexandria and Egypt appear as in the days of the Nile Kingdom; the Forum, Cleopatra's Palace and the gorgeous throne room are revived in all their wonderful ancient wealth.

Egyptians, Roman soldiers, royal court attendants, slaves dancing girls Jews, Greeks, Assyrians, Numidians, Parthians—all live as in the days of the Pharoahs.

Royal splendor has a new meaning in William Fox's Cleopatra. It is a riot of gorgeousness and splendor.

BANQUET TONIGHT

The first annual banquet of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders and Helpers of America, known as local 360, will be held at 9 o'clock tonight in the Westminster building, Prince and St. Asaph streets.

The banquet will be in honor of the Deleware River District Council which will be held here this evening.

MYSTERIOUS MURDER

Bodies of Three Prominent Chinamen Found by Chinese Student in Mission Headquartesr in Northwest Washington.

The bodies of Dr. Theodore T. Wong, director of the Chinese Educational Mission to the United States, and his two assistants, C. H. Hsie and Ben Sen Wu, Chinamen of the highest caste, who had been shot to death, were found yesterday in the mission's headquarters, 2023 Kalorama road northwest, Washington. The bodies were found by Kong Li, a Chinese student living across the street from the scene of triple murder, at 2014 Kalorama road, who called to learn why Hsie and Wu had been absent from classes at George Washington University.

No effort was made at robbery. Papers of international importance were left untouched. Officials of the Chinese embassy stated last night motives for the crime were entirely lacking.

RECEPTION WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday evening February 5, between the hours of eight and eleven, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Morton will give an informal reception to the congregation of Christ Church at the rectory, 407 North Washington street. No formal invitations will be issued, but all persons in any way affiliated with Christ Church, are cordially invited to attend.

HOLD WIDOW FOR MURDER

Authorities Also Link Male Friend With Butchering of Husband.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Feb. 1.—Mrs. Helen Myskowski and her alleged paramour, Toney Palma, Thursday night were held without bail for the murder of Benny Myskowski, husband of the woman, who was brutally murdered while he slept. So far the authorities have nothing more than circumstantial evidence against the pair.

Investigations have failed to fix responsibility for the crime Some of the county authorities believe the woman the murderess, other think Palma the slayer, while still others call the murder a conspiracy between the woman and Palma. Each denies the crime. They do not accuse each other and, while the pair are being held, the county officials admit that at present they have no definite evidence and that they could not convict either one if the trial were held at once.

STABBED AFTER A WARNING

Man Told to Stop Aiding "Drys" Savagely Attacked at Night

Hamburg, Pa. Feb. 1.—While Geo. F. Leinbach was returning to his home Wednesday night from the house of Rev Mr. Yoder, pastor of the Salem U. P. hurch, he was savagely attacked by an unknown person, felled and stabbed with a blunt instrument in his abdomen. The thug tried to stab him again, but the timely approach of an automobile saved him and the assailant fled.

Last Saturday Leinbach received a letter informing him that he had until February 9 to change his religion and quit his activities in promoting prohibition and failure to heed the warning would result in his heart being cut out within 24 hous of the stated time. The writers said they had selected three different places to do the job. Leinbach paid no heed to the warning, but now the case has been placed into the hands of the State police.

SILENT DISCIPLES

You do not have to leave a card
At God's door day by day;
He knows that you have been along,
He's watched you all the way.
He has so many visitors,
And still remembers all—
You do not have to advertise
That you have made your call.

Philip Brooks once said: "A man who lives right and is right has more power in his silence than another has by his words."

Rev. Dr. D. F. Sprigg, for many years pastor of Grace Church, in Alexandria, wrote a book entitled "Helps to Those Who Pray in Private."

While the publication failed to attract the attention is deserved, the production proved a decided help to many striving to walk in the strait and narrow path while tabernacling upon this earth, and it is for the comfort of such that we utter this sermonette.

We have often thought that some sermons lack the spirit of sympathy which should characterize them. In this day of stupendous movements toward the betterment of the world crumbs of comfort dropped occasionally for the benefit of the meek and lowly—those who take back seats in our houses of worship and who shrink from prominence or notoriety—would be relished.

There are thousands of men and women in every community who are Christians and don't know it. In an unpretentious way they hunger and thirst after righteousness, and the Master solemnly assures such that they shall be filled.

The rank and file of all churches toil through six days, meeting with disappointments, lack of appreciation and probably battling against poverty. On Sunday such are in a receptive mood for encouragement which they should receive.

IMAGINARY AILMENTS

It has long been known that many men and women pass through life suffering from what they believe are chronic organic troubles when in fact they are perfectly sound. A young man in a neighboring city was firmly convinced he was a sufferer from heart trouble. When he bent his body a certain way he heard a slight creak, which proved to him that he was a victim of cardiac disease. He at last went to a physician who, after an examination, told him his heart was normal. He told the doctor to put his ear to his side and listen. The physician did so, his patient at the time inclining his body suddenly. The doctor heard the creak, and told him to take off his vest, then his suspenders. The latter worked, as many do, on a small wheel. The physician took a vial of oil and poured some into the wheel, told the young man to readjust his suspenders, and then made him twist his body in various directions, but no sound could then be heard. The physician then told his patient that there was nothing the matter with his heart, but that his suspenders needed oiling.

A Baltimore physician in an article in a paper of that city shows that certain people are as much deluded as the young man with the rusty wheel in his suspender.

Quite a number of persons, the doctor says, imagine that they have tuberculosis, and live as carefully as though their lungs were half gone, which, indeed, they frequently believe to be the case. Sad to say, in some of these cases unfounded fears have been deliberately preyed upon by quacks.

Perhaps, the most common of imaginary ailments is "heart disease." The subjects of this delusion are often skeptical about the doctor's assurances that nothing is wrong, because of the queer sensations that they feel. It is a fact that many of these "queer" sensations are normal phenomena.

The rapid action of the heart consequent upon running up a flight of stairs, with the associated shortness of breath, has given rise to forebodings, while palpitation, due to the abuse of tobacco, alcohol, tea and coffee, or to gaseous distention of the stomach, has caused the greatest alarm.

It is a fact that in organic heart disease it is rather uncommon for patients to complain about the heart itself. So much is this the case that physicians generally discount much of what patients say about their hearts until examination has revealed the actual conditions.

THE GERMAN COLONIES

The purpose of the President in urging that the German colonies be administered by "mandatories" of the League of Nations is the noble one of keeping the great war clear of the element of conquest says an exchange. On the side of the Allies and America it was primarily a war of self defense, and it broadened into a war of peoples against kings, or of democracy against autocracy.

The German colonies present a problem. They are populated almost entirely by aborigines who are either savage or of a very low type of civilization. They cannot govern themselves except by the most primitive methods. What shall be done with them? The President's plan for saving civilization and yet preserving the character of the war as a war for freedom, and not for conquest, is to have the former German colonies in Africa and the South Pacific administered by the nations or colonies in the best position to do so, but not as sovereigns; they are to act as mandatories of the League of Nations.

If it be true that the British Cabinet rejects the demands of the British dependencies and accepts President Wilson's plan it is the strongest possible evidence of its desire to obtrude no selfish interests in the way of carrying out the magnificent plan for international brotherhood and the preservation of peace.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Whatever forces may be sent to Turkey for garrisoning purposes, there will be no American troops among them, it develops. It is pointed out that their use for this purpose would be inappropriate, as the United States has never been at war with Turkey.

The Rev. Carroll C. Smyth, for ten years an assistant pastor at St. Martin's Catholic Church, Fulton avenue and Fayette street, Baltimore, was found dead from gas poisoning in his room on the second floor of the rectory adjoining teh church at 6:30 a. m., yesterday. The coroner decided that death was due to an accident.

President Wilson and the Allied Prime Ministers yesterday afternoon considered the Balkan problem, particularly the dispute between the Serbians and Roumanians. The commission charged with examining the labor problem, compensation and damages shortly will begin their work.

During explosions and fire which yesterday wrecked the Nyack plant of the American Aniline Products Co., of New oYrk city, one man was killed and 13 other employes were injured. Several persons have not been accounted for. The property loss is estimated at about $1,000,000. Heavy damage was caused throughout Nyack by the detonations. The High School will be closed for two weeks for repairs. Some of the pupils were injured by broken glass. The first explosion occurred in the dye-mixing building. The cause has not been determined.

The report that some arrangement between Great Britain and Spain was in prospect through which Gibraltar would be turned over to Spanish jurisdiction is denied by the Paris edition of the London Daily Mail. "Statements are being circulated in Paris, and it is feared also in England," says the newspaper, "that Great Britain is considering a bargain with Spain for the return of Gibraltar. The fact is that Spain made certain tempting offers, which were at one time considered by the British Admiralty on behalf of the Government and which were for various reasons denied."

GERMAN CITIZENS SLAIN

Shot Down by Jugo-Slavs While Parading in Honor of American Commission.

London Feb. 1.—German residents of Marburg, Styria, made a demonstration in the streets of that town Monday in honor of arrival there by airship of an American mission headed by Colonel Miles. According to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Vienna, the action of the Germans aroused General Majester, the Jugo-Slav commander, who ordered the people to disperse.

When his order was not obeyed, the dispatch adds, he commanded his troops to fire, with the result that eight persons were killed and many injured.

A Splendid Tonic

Says Hixon Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn., —"About 10 years ago I was," says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place, "I sufferd with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try som more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommended it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sideache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists.

Thank God We Don't Need Your Kid.

You say he can't stand the briny,
The life is too rough for him,
Do you think he is any better
Than some other mother's Tom or Jim?
You raised him up like a girl,
He don't smoke or drink, is your brag,
If all the boys were like him
What would become of our flag?
You say, "Let the roughnecks do the fighting,
They are used to the bacon and stew,"
I am glad I am classed with the roughnecks
Who fight for the Red, White and Blue.
You say that his girl couldn't stand it,
To send him off with the rest,
Don't you think that she would be able
If she felt the Hun's breath on her breast?
Think of the women of Belgium,
Of the cruelties they had to bear,
Do you want the same thing to happen
To your innocent daughter so fair?
You can thank God that the stars in Old Glory
Are not blurred with that kind of a strain,
Because there are ten million roughnecks
That have red blood in their veins.
They go to drill in bad weather
And come in with a grin on their face
While your darling sits in your parlor
And lets another man fight in his place.
Maybe we smoke and we gamble,
But we fight as our forefathers did,
So go warm the milk for his bottle, and we
Thank God that we don't need your kid.

VIRGINIA NEWS

According to the will of S. M. Bowman, of Linville Depot, Shenandoah county, who died January 24, in Charlottesville, $75,000 is bequeathed to the Bridgewater College.

The Hanover Herald, published for years at Ashland by W. B. Walton, has been sold by the owner to a syndicate of business men of Ashland, who will form a stock company and continue the publication.

If he can be located, the Galveston dentist, said to have done work on Mrs. Wilmer A. Hadley's teeth while she was a resident of that city a few years ago, will probably be brought to Richmond to clinch the identification of the corpse in the James river mystery case.

Emmett D. Gallion, law partner with the late Senator Daniel, of Virginia, and for many years connected with the Interior Department, who died January 27, left a will bequeathing his entire estate, consisting of 750 acres of valuable timber land at Green Bay, to the State forest service of Virginia.

Aubrey Bennett, a blind boy, was burned to death Thursday at Clifton Forge, when the home of E. Bennett was destroyed by fire. It is said that Mr and Mrs. Bennett were forced to flee in their night clothes and leap from a second story window. They tried to rescue the boy, but found their passage blocked by flames.

Annual savings of $2,336,945 in money was made in the Pocahontas region through unification of operation of the railroads under the railroad administration, according to the annual report of the regional director, N. D. Maher, at Roanoke, made public yesterday by the director general. The savings were mostly in Virginia. In addition a record in the transportation of troops, supplies and munitions to the ports of transshipment overseas was made.

TO PAY OLD DEBT

Governor Cornwell, of West Virginia, gave straight advice to the legislature when he told them that the ancient debt of the State to Virginia ought to be paid. West Virginia has spent a half million dollars in legal proceedings intended to defeat the claim of the mother state, but the United States supreme court says it is justly due and settlement time has arrived.

To tackle the job of assuming a $12,000,000 debt is a heroic undertaking for a commonwealth which has been otherwise free of bonded obligations for years, but it can be done and no doubt the legislature will finda a way.

Meantime, it is just a trifle, early for Virginia to start plans for spending all that money which has been growing by the accumulation of interest for five and a half decades. But it is not out of order to remark that the state needs good roads—more roads and vastly better roads than any which were planned in the last century ;and twelve million dollars will be exceedingly helpful in that direction.—Richmond Virginian.

ARMY OF 500,000

An army of 500,000 men was unanimously decided on yesterday by the House military committee as the basis for determnining the appropriation for army pay for the year beginning next July. Committee members said the number was expected to be the average force during the year. The decision marked the beginning of the committee's work of framing the annual military appropriation bill. Members said it had no bearing on permanent future military policy.
